

The Frederick Douglass Honor Society, joined by the Talbot County Free Library, the Town of Easton, and Talbot County Government present a virtual celebration of the life and legacy of Frederick Douglass on Saturday, Sept. 26, 2020.

10
am

Frederick Douglass Welcome Ceremony, Emceed by Harriette Lowery; Invocation by Reverend Dr. William T. Wallace, Sr.; Reading by William Peak; Frederick Douglass (portrayed by Terron Quailes) Self-Made Man Speech; Guest speakers Mayor Robert Willey, County Council President Corey Pack, TCPS Superintendent Dr. Kelly Griffith, TCFL Director Dana Newman; Musical performances by Easton High School students, Terron Quailes, and the US Navy Band

11
am

Presentation of Frederick Douglass's portrait by award-winning professional portrait & landscape artist Laura Era, owner of the prestigious Troika Gallery

Children's Village offering learning, challenging, and fun activities, with prizes and giveaways
Frederick Douglass Reading

11:30
am

Around the World with Frederick Douglass highlighting leading Douglass scholars, curators, and dignitaries from Scotland, Ireland, England, and around the United States.

1
pm

Frederick Douglass Lecture by Professor John Stauffer, a leading authority on antislavery, the Civil War, social protest movements, and photography.

2
pm

Q & A with Professor John Stauffer and Keidrick Roy - on the Frederick Douglass Day Facebook page; <https://www.facebook.com/FrederickDouglassDay>

6:30
pm

The Moment Was Now - A musical conceived and created by Gene Bruskin, The Moment Was Now film will be live streamed at 6:30 pm, September 26, 2020. Visit the website for ticket registration info.

A full calendar of activities, timeline, and information for Q&A with Professor John Stauffer are available at FrederickDouglassDay.com

Mr. and Mrs.
Paul B. Prager

JEFF McGUINESS
Bay Photographic Works

THE STAR
StarDem.com